About This Trip •

The Eastern Himalayas are a realm of breathtaking landscapes, ancient monasteries, alpine lakes, and vibrant hill culture. This North Sikkim with Pelling and Darjeeling tour offers a soul-stirring Himalayan journey that weaves together spirituality, natural beauty, adventure, and cultural immersion. Whether you're a nature lover, a spiritual seeker, or a mountain wanderer, this tour offers a transformative experience across some of Northeast India's most awe-inspiring destinations.

Start Your Journey in the Capital: Gangtok

Your trip begins in Gangtok, the capital city of Sikkim, perched on a ridge and surrounded by the snow-covered peaks of the Eastern Himalayas. The drive from Bagdogra Airport or NJP Station is lined with scenic river valleys, offering views of the Teesta and Rangeet River confluence at Triveni View Point. In Gangtok, you'll explore MG Marg, the town's heartbeat, bustling with cafes, shops, and local flavours.

Gangtok is also your base for an exhilarating day trip to Tsomgo Lake, a glacial wonder at over 12,000 feet that changes colour with the seasons. Close by is Baba Mandir, built in honour of Indian Army hero Baba Harbhajan Singh. For a truly rare adventure, travel to Nathula Pass, the Indo-China border, where the winds carry stories from two nations across barbed wire fences.

Unveil the Mystique of Lachen & Gurudongmar Lake

Leaving the urban comforts of Gangtok, the road leads north to Lachen, a peaceful hamlet nestled at high altitudes. En route, witness the cascading beauty of Naga Falls and pass through Kanchenjunga National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Lachen serves as your gateway to the legendary Gurudongmar Lake, one of the highest lakes in the world at over 17,000 feet. Believed to have healing powers, the lake is revered by Buddhists and Sikhs alike and remains frozen for much of the year, except for a small portion that legends say never freezes.

Into the Blooming Valley: Lachung & Yumthang

Your journey continues to Lachung, a charming village often snow-draped during winter and surrounded by towering peaks. The nearby Yumthang Valley, often called the Valley of Flowers of the East, bursts into colour during spring with thousands of blooming rhododendrons. The valley is also home to Zero Point, where the road ends, a dramatic, snow-covered landscape where you feel at the edge of the world.

Spiritual Vibes in West Sikkim: Pelling

The journey itself is memorable, especially if you choose the route via Ravangla or Namchi. In Ravangla, visit the famous Buddha Park, while Namchi boasts the Char Dham Complex, featuring replicas of four sacred pilgrimage sites and a towering Shiva statue.

In Pelling, you'll explore attractions like the tranquil Khecheopalri Lake, considered sacred by both Buddhists and Hindus, where it is said that not even a leaf disturbs the water. The scenic Rimbi Waterfalls, Orange Garden, and Darap Village offer a deep connection with nature and local traditions. Don't miss the Pelling Skywalk, India's first glass-bottom skywalk with sweeping Himalayan views and a majestic Chenrezig statue. Wrap up your day with a visit to the ancient Pemayangtse Monastery and the Rabdentse Palace Ruins, the remnants of Sikkim's former capital, offer a glimpse into the region's royal history.

British-Era Charm in Darjeeling

From spiritual West Sikkim, travel west to Darjeeling, the "Queen of the Hills," where misty mountains meet aromatic tea gardens. This historic hill station offers the perfect mix of adventure and nostalgia. Start your day early at Tiger Hill, where the first rays of dawn illuminate the majestic Mt. Kanchenjunga, the world's third-highest peak, in a stunning golden glow.

Experience the heritage charm of the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The toy train journey to Ghum Station via the Batasia Loop gives panoramic views of the mountains and a visit to the Gorkha War Memorial. In town, you'll visit the Himalayan Mountaineering Institute, the Padmaja Naidu Himalayan Zoological Park (home to red pandas), and glide over tea gardens on the Darjeeling Ropeway. Find inner peace at the Japanese Temple and Peace Pagoda, surrounded by silent prayer flags and soothing chants.
