About This Trip •

A Spiti Valley expedition with Chandrataal Lake is one of the most raw and breathtaking Himalayan journeys you can experience. This high-altitude adventure takes you through rugged mountains, ancient monasteries, remote villages, and dramatic landscapes that feel almost otherworldly.

Starting from the lush green valleys of Kinnaur, the journey gradually transitions into the cold desert terrain of Spiti. You'll explore iconic places like Key Monastery, Hikkim, Komic, Langza, Dhankar, and Pin Valley, each offering unique cultural and scenic experiences.

The highlight of the journey is undoubtedly Chandrataal Lake, also known as the "Moon Lake," famous for its crystal-clear blue waters and surreal surroundings. Camping near the lake under a sky full of stars is an unforgettable experience.

This Spiti Valley tour package with Chandrataal Lake is perfect for travellers seeking adventure, solitude, and a deep connection with nature. Whether you're planning a Spiti Valley itinerary with Chandrataal Lake or looking for a complete Spiti Valley with Chandrataal package, this journey offers the perfect blend of thrill and serenity.

Places to visit in Spiti Expedition

Chandrataal Lake

Chandrataal Lake, located in the Lahaul region, is a crescent-shaped high-altitude lake near the source of the Chandra River. Known as the trekker's paradise, it offers mesmerising reflections, stunning landscapes, and unforgettable camping experiences, making it a must-visit destination for adventure and nature lovers.

Key Monastery

Key Monastery is the largest monastery in the Spiti Valley and an important training centre for monks. Perched at 4,166 meters above sea level, it houses ancient murals, scriptures, and Buddha images while offering breathtaking views of the Spiti River and surrounding mountains.

Kunzum Pass

Kunzum Pass is one of the highest motorable passes in India, connecting the Lahaul and Spiti valleys. Popular among bikers, it offers thrilling drives, stunning mountain views, and a sacred temple where travellers seek blessings before continuing towards Chandratal Lake.

Pin Valley National Park

Pin Valley National Park is a cold desert park located in Spiti Valley, known for its rare flora and fauna. It protects endangered species like snow leopards and is named after the Pin River, forming a natural boundary between Spiti and the surrounding regions.

Dhankar Monastery

Dhankar Monastery is a historic Buddhist monastery dramatically perched on a cliff above Dhankar village. Located between Kaza and Tabo, it offers breathtaking views of river confluences and holds immense cultural and spiritual significance in the Spiti Valley region.

Tabo Monastery

Tabo Monastery, located in Tabo village, is one of the oldest continuously operating Buddhist monasteries in the Himalayas. Built like a fortress, it features ancient murals and scriptures and hosts daily prayers, making it a significant spiritual and cultural attraction.

Kibber

Kibber is a high-altitude village in Spiti Valley known for its traditional lifestyle and scenic beauty. Once part of ancient trade routes, it now serves as a base for the Kibber Wildlife Sanctuary and offers insights into local culture and farming practices.

Kaza Market

Kaza Market is the main shopping hub of Spiti Valley, offering Tibetan handicrafts, prayer flags, woollens, and souvenirs. Visitors can explore local artefacts, clothing, jewellery, and unique items reflecting the rich culture and traditions of the Himalayan region.

Gue Village

Gue Village is famous for preserving a 500-year-old mummy of a Buddhist monk, Sangha Tenzin. Located near Tabo, this unique attraction fascinates visitors with its history, mystery, and well-preserved remains found in a natural sitting posture.

Tibetan Shops in Spiti

Tibetan shops in Spiti Valley offer a wide range of handicrafts, including jewellery, artefacts, woollens, and paintings. Influenced by Tibetan culture, these shops provide perfect souvenirs, allowing travellers to take back memories of Spiti's rich heritage and traditions.
